

CLAIMS

What I claim is:

1. (Currently amended)

The apparatus of the invention is a potato slicing device using 3/8" - 16 threads per inch screw threads to provide the rotary and forward thrust to spiral slice a potato into a thin approximate .0625 inch thick slice, the slice for frying as a potato chip.